THE MATERIAL IS UNEXCELLED.

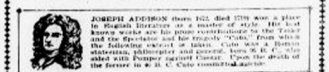

Nowhere in Florida Can Better Road Material Be Found Than in This Vicinity.

Shell Mounds Are Plentiful.
Daytona in particular, and Volusia from Deland and the city, the most fertile in general, can boast of good roads. In the city of Daytona are miles of good roads as good as can be found in the United States. From the coast to New Smyrna is an ideal hard road built by the county last year at an enormous expense. From New Smyrna to Deland, the road is a magnificent example of the best material in the State, and perhaps the most unique and interesting drive in the north, the East Coast road, which will be completed, in the near future, to follow the coast line from St. Augustine to Miami. The soil is only to be a delightful automobile pleasure for Northern tourists, but will be of great use to farmers and fruit-growers in shipping their produce. The road of suitable material for hard road making has, but to be in every section of the State.

Today a committee from the Florida East Coast Automobile Association, and the Daytona Board of Trade went to Deland to appear before the Board of County Commissioners this morning, and to induce that body to place the county contract to work on the road here.

A Poem for Today

ON THE IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL
From "Cato"
By Joseph Addison

It must be so—Plato, then remained well.
Else whence this pleasing hope, this fond desire,
This longing after immortality?
Or whence this secret dread, and inward fear
Of falling into no more?
Whence this prepossession, that the soul
Shall live, and be immortal?
The doctrine that stars within us.
The heaven that points out a hereafter
And intimates eternity to man.
Eternity!—then glorious thought!
Thought that variety of nature breeds,
Through what we sense and choose, what we pass?
The wide, the unbounded prospect lies before us.
But shadow, shade and darkness close upon it.
Here will I hold, if there's a power above us
That does not die, that does not change.
Through all his works, he would impart in virtue,
Back on himself, and make us live again.
But when, or where? This world is made for Cato.
I'm weary of contemplation.
Laying his hand on the sword:
Thus I am daily smitten, my death
My loss and nothing, are both before me.
This is a moment taught me to be true.
But this inference I shall never draw.
At the dawn dawning and the evening
The stars shall fade away, the sun himself
Shall lower in the evening sky, and yet
But this shall feed the soul in immortal power.
Cato's mind the war of the world.
The wreck of matter and the crash of worlds.

BIG PARTY IS COMING.

Minnesota Enthusiasts Will Take in the Races—More Than One Hundred Coming.
A party of more than one hundred members of the Minnesota Automobile Association, will leave the Minnesota state on the morning of January 20th, for the annual Daytona Beach Races. The pleasure seekers will arrive in St. Augustine on Sunday afternoon of the following day, and on the next morning leave for Daytona. Here the special train will be placed on a side-track, and the crowd of suitable material for hard road making has, but to be in every section of the State.

First Trip.

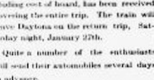

The night-voyage of the Whipple Motor Company of Dayton, N. Y., under the direction of R. W. Whipple, made its first trip to New Smyrna, on Sunday last. There were fourteen guests in the party, and the pleasant experience on the return indicated that all thoroughly enjoyed the journey. The passenger left Atwood Pharmacy at 10 a. m., and made the run to the Ocean House at New Smyrna, in an hour and a half. The road was found to be in good condition, with the exception of a small piece between the two and eleven mile-points. There the heavy rain of last had inundated the roadway, and some little delay was experienced in passing. After a good dinner, Mr. Whipple showed his guests the beauties of the town, and at 2:30 o'clock commenced the homeward journey.

Died.

Merion Elliott, age 23 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Elliott, died Sunday morning, of the family members, on Palmetto Avenue.

The young man has been in failing health for some time past, but the doctors found in various parts of the State. It was a very sudden attack, and the family was very much surprised. The family came to Daytona last November, from Colorado, where they spent a year or more in an attempt to beat the malaria. Prior to that time they spent a period in California, but the change in air of the climate did not prove in any way beneficial. During the young man's stay in Daytona he made a number of warm acquaintances, who are pained to hear of his death. He leaves a father and mother, also a sister and brother, who were when he died. The funeral service will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence, in the First Baptist Church, at Daytona Beach, Fla.

ON THE IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL

From "Cato"
By Joseph Addison

JOSEPH ADDISON (born 1672, died 1719) won a place in English literature as a master of style. His best known works are his prose contributions to the Tatler and the Spectator and his tragedy "Cato," from which the following extract is taken. Cato was a Roman statesman, philosopher and general, born 95 B. C., who sided with Pompey against Caesar. Upon the death of the former in 48 B. C. Cato committed suicide.

IT must be so—Plato, thou reasonest well!
Else whence this pleasing hope, this fond desire,
This longing after immortality?
Or whence this secret dread and inward horror
Of falling into naught? Why shrink the soul
Back on herself, and starts at destruction?
'Tis the divinity that stirs within us;
'Tis heaven itself, that points out a hereafter
And intimates eternity to man.
Eternity!—thou pleasing, dreadful thought!
Through what variety of untried being,
Through what new scenes and changes, must we pass?
The wide, the unbounded prospect lies before me,
But shadows, clouds and darkness rest upon it.
Here will I hold, if there's a power above us
(And that there is all Nature cries aloud
Through all her works, he must delight in virtue,
And that which he delights in must be happy;
But when, or where? This world was made for Caesar,
I'm weary of conjecture—this must end them.
(Laying his hand on his sword.)
Thus I am doubly armed; my death and life,
My bane and antidote, are both before me.
This in a moment brings me to an end,
But this informs me I shall never die.
The soul, secured in her existence, smiles
At the drawn dagger and defies its point.
The stars shall fade away, the sun himself
Grow dim with age, and Nature sink in years,
But thou shalt flourish in immortal youth,
Unhurt amid the war of elements,
The wreck of matter and the crush of worlds.

BIG PARTY IS COMING.

Minneapolis Enthusiasts Will Take in the Races.—More Than One Hundred Coming.

A party of more than one hundred members of the Minneapolis Automobile Association, will leave the Minneapolis city on the morning of January 20th, bound for the Ormond-Daytona Beach races. The pleasure seekers will arrive in St. Augustine, on Sunday afternoon of the following day, and on the next morning leave for Daytona. Here the special train will be placed on a side-track, and remain through the six days of the race meet. During this time the opportunity will be given for the visitors to take a side trip down the coast.

The special train will consist of ten cars—four of the best Pullman sleepers, observatory car, buffet library car, two dining-cars, and two baggage cars. A special rate of $75 for the round trip, including cost of board, has been received covering the entire trip. The train will leave Daytona on the return trip, Saturday night, January 27th.

Quite a number of the enthusiasts will send their automobiles several days in advance.

tended search through the Florida crust to find out what it could supply for this purpose. An abundant material has been found in various parts of the State. It comprises chiefly sandy clay, siliceous lime-stone, loose shells and coprolite, soft phosphate, flint rock and muddy deposits found in the beds of certain streams.

"The numerous shell heaps found in various coast places in the State furnish excellent road material. The best road material of this kind is doubtless that obtained from the bed of the Halifax River, at Daytona. The banks of the river are masses of shells gathered in the coast-work of a former time, and these are mixed with new shells in its bed. The shells are in a clayey matrix, which serve as cementing material to hold the mass together when it becomes a road-covering. The shell heaps furnish considerable material, not only for public roads, but also for private driveways and lawn-walks in various parts of the State."

First Trip.

The sight-seeing auto of the Whipple Motor Company, of Clayton, N. Y., under the direction of R. W. Whipple, manager, made its first trip to New Smyrna, on Sunday last. There were fourteen guests in the party, and the pleasant expressions on the return indicated that all thoroughly enjoyed the outing. The conveyance left Atwood Pharmacy at 10 a. m., and made the run to the Ocean House, at New Smyrna, in an hour and a half. The road was found to be in good condition, with the exception of a small piece between the ten and eleven mile-posts. There the heavy rains of late had inundated the roadway, and some little delay was experienced in passing. After a good dinner, Mr. Whipple showed his guests the beauties of the town, and at 2:30 o'clock commenced the homeward journey.

Some little difficulty was experienced in passing the "soft spot," on the return, but in other respects the trip was most delightful, arriving at 4 p. m.

Died.

Moerton Elliott, age 23 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Elliott, died Sunday morning, at the family residence, on Palmetto Avenue.

The young man has been in failing health for some time past, but the direct cause of his demise was an attack of tuberculosis. The family came to Daytona last November, from Orlando, where they spent a year or more in an attempt to benefit the patient. Prior to that time they spent a period in California, but the changes in any of the climes did not prove in any way beneficial.

During the young man's stay in Daytona he made a number of warm acquaintances, who are pained to hear of his death.

He leaves a father and mother, also a sister and brother, who were here when the end came.

The funeral service will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence. Interment in Pine-wood Cemetery, at Daytona Beach. Rev. Shoemaker, of the First Baptist Church, will officiate.

A Poem for Today

LOVE
By Jean Ingelow

JEAN INGELOW, poet and novelist, was born at Boston, Lincolnshire, England, in 1820 and died in London in 1907. Her quiet, uneventful life was passed among peaceful surroundings and was devoted to literature, her father's wealth lifting Miss Ingelow above care. Among the best known and loved of her poems are the "Songs of Seven," which portray a woman's life from seven to seventy-seven. Besides her poems Miss Ingelow wrote novels and children's books.

I LEANED out of my window, I smelt the white clover,
Dark, dark was the garden, I saw not the gate;
'Now, if there be footsteps, he comes, my one lover—
Hush, nightingale, hush! Oh, sweet nightingale, wait Till I listen and hear.
If a step draweth near,
For my love he is late.

"The skies in the darkness stoop nearer and nearer,
A cluster of stars hangs like fruit in the tree.
The fall of the water comes sweeter, comes clearer:
To what art thou listening, and what dost thou see?
Let the stars cluster grow,
Let the sweet waters flow,
And cross quickly to me.

"You night moths that hover where honey brims over
From sycamore blossoms, or settle or sleep;
You glowworms shine out and the pathway discover
To him that comes darkling along the rough steep.
Ah, my sailor, make haste,
For the time runs to waste,
And my love lieth deep—

"Too deep for swift telling; and yet my one lover, I've counted thee an answer; it waits thee tonight."
By the sycamore passed he, and through the white clover,
Then all the sweet speech I had fashioned took flight:
But I'll love him more, more Than e'er wife loved before,
Be the days dark or bright.

A Blow From a Lion's Paw.
A man entered a London theater in the early morning and found to his horror that four lions, which were housed there, had broken from their cage. One gave him a blow with its paw then took him in its mouth. The blow from a lion's paw is said to be, after the stroke of a whale's tail and the kick of a giraffe, the strongest thing in nature, so that the victim was dead when the keeper went to the rescue. Only one lion had concerned itself with the man and was now sitting over him as a dog sits over a bone. Two of the lions were playing on the stage with a "property" giraffe, and the fourth was seated in the royal box, plucking away at the gambles on the stage and the terrible banquet in the auditorium. The murderer relinquished its prey immediately its master appeared, and all four looked for their den like children detected in some misdeed. — St. James' Gazette.

Writing a Letter.

A letter is written conversation and should be simple, cordial and with a flavor of personality, like a chat with a friend.
When discouraged, sick or sad do not write. A letter carries atmosphere. Never write anything over your signature of which you might later be ashamed. Write kindly of every one. Letters are like debts—harder to pay when overdue. Read over your friend's letter just before beginning your reply and then answer it. Out of the heart letters are the most welcome.
Use plain, unruled stationery, folding once to fit the envelope white, cream white, gray or gray blue of good quality. Men of taste use only white paper.
Avoid eccentric shapes and colors, monograms or heraldic devices of unusual size and anything conspicuously odd.

*Wanted—A young lady clerk at the shellboat. 21

E. M. Tyler, of Sheephead Bay, N.
J., is in the city a guest of Schmidt's Villa. Mr. Tyler is one of a party that had strenuous times, opposite Titusville, in a gale several weeks ago.

Captain Bryan, of Jacksonville, is in Daytona, and is stopping at Schmidt's Villa. He was here twelve years ago, and superintended the work of constructing the Daytona seawall. He thinks the town has progressed wonderfully, and notes with much pride the improvements that have been made.

Williams art studio has been moved from Gillie's Dock to the foot of Central Bridge.

The Practical Joker.
 See the practical joker. He is not much of a sight, but still he is worth looking at as a curiosity, as a study in uncommon cussiness. The practical joker is the offspring of asininity run to seed. He is what was left over after the rest of the world was created.
 There was a slight surplus, a mere fraction, not enough to make a complete man, so the scraps were scraped up, pressed together and molded into a practical joker. The job was not patented. Nobody thinks enough of the invention to patent it. You couldn't sell practical jokers for 3 cents a bunch
 if you should stand out on the corner and spiel till your vocal cords got tied into double bowknots. The public is aware of the shell game when it sees the layout. The practical joker is an escaped idiot from the Idiotville asylum, but he is by no means a harmless idiot. When recognized, he should be roped forthwith and hauled back to his native and natural environment, the padded cell. Portland Oregonian.

Blue and Gray Tobacco Smoke.
 Did you ever notice while enjoying your favorite cigar that the smoke that curls up from the burning end of the "wood" is blue, while that exhaled from the mouth is of a whitish gray?
 The explanation of this oddity is not far to seek. The wreath from the fiery end of the cigar is in the shape of infinite dust particles, and all such articles (even the blue of the smoke here is explained in the same way) reflect the blue color. In the case of the exhaled smoke the fine particles have mixed with the moisture of the breath and have thereby become several folds larger than those escaping direct from the burning tobacco. This being the case, they have become large enough to reflect the white light, which gives the exhaled smoke an entirely different color.

His Love Was His Ruin.
 When Hannibal had crossed the Alps into Italy he established himself in winter quarters in one of the finest houses in Capua. While walking one day in the garden he heard a sweet voice near at hand. Struck by the charm of its tones, he sent for the singer and became so enamored of her that he at once attached her to his household and disposed of her hapless husband by beheading him. Retribution quickly followed this outrage. The balance of the winter was devoted to pleasure. Drill and discipline were neglected, and as spring came on the Carthaginian army was so demoralized that its prestige was lost, and the downfall of Hannibal followed.

Rough on the Bishop.
 Bishop Bloomfield discovered one day as he entered the pulpit that he had forgotten the manuscript of his sermon. It was impossible to do as the Scottish minister did in similar circumstances, send for the sermon from his home while the congregation sung Psalm 116. No, he must preach extempore, and did so, taking for his theme the existence of God. Very well satisfied he felt with his effort. As he walked home he overtook one of his congregation, whose opinion of the sermon he invited. "Well, it was a very good sermon," was the reply, "but I don't agree with it. I believe there is a God."

Safe With a Dead Wren.
 The fishermen of the Isle of Man always feel safe from storm and disaster if they have a dead wren on board.
 They have a tradition that at one time an evil sea spirit always haunted the herring pack and was always attended by storms. The spirit assumed many forms. At last it took the shape of a wren and flew away. If the fishermen have a dead wren with them they are certain that all will be safe and snug. London Fishing Gazette.

Placid Hindoo Servants.
 Hindoo servants are the most imperturbable people in the world. You may throw one downstairs or put him on the back. He accepts both with exactly the same expression of countenance. The Indian's religion is at the bottom of all his acts, all his feelings.

 lessons of his present incarnation. He Was Willing to do to Sea.

 At the time when William E. Chandler of New Hampshire was secretary of the navy Admiral Biddle was commandant of the navy yard in Washington. They got into trouble somehow, these two positive gentlemen, and the commandant was summoned before the secretary one day on a matter of importance. The secretary told the commandant that if he kept on, or words to that effect, he should certainly be obliged to punish him by sending him to sea. "Mr. Secretary," said Meade, "I haven't anything to say except that when it is punishment for an officer of the navy to be ordered to sea, what is your service coming to?
 I should like to go to sea, sir. Good day."

London.
 London is a shop and a bank, a gunning hell and a cathedral. Its streets are paved with gold and set with thorns. It is the place for a rich man and the place for a poor man. It is all wealth and happiness. It is all poverty and distress. It is a huge paradox.
 Many things are possible in London that are also impossible. If it so please you and you possess the ability to do so you may live not merely a double life, but half a dozen different lives, which will never clash with one another. You may be in London at the same time a priest and a pirate. It is big enough for both of you.—J. H. M. Abbott in Spectator.

Hats on in Church.
 Pepps shows that in the seventeenth century both men and women wore their hats to worship. "To church," he writes, "and heard a simple fellow open the praise of church music and exclaiming against men wearing their hats on in the church." Later he notes that he saw a minister "preach with his hat off, which I never saw before."
 The hat was then an integral part of both male and female costume, and Pepps catches "a strange cold in my head by flinging off my hat at dinner."

 something that generally sounds as if it had been written by a man whose mind was a blank."—Washington Star.

...Wanted...
 1,000 Reporters!

The Daily News wants 1,000 reporters. No, this is not a joke. We really want them, and we won't be happy until we get them.

In other words, The Daily News wants every person, male and female, 18 years of age and over, in Daytona and its environs, to get on the staff of the paper. The Daily News wants every scrap of local news that is worth printing to appear in its columns. The best way to get it is to ask the people who know about the news to send it to the paper.

So if you know of anything that has happened, or is about to happen, tell the City Editor about it or write to him.

Let every man and woman, youth and maid in and around Daytona become a reporter The Daily News.

The Circus.

W. H.

Mr. Brodsky is an expert of the circus. The show gave two performances yesterday, one in the afternoon and one at night. The afternoon show was highly attended, and the evening show surpassed the price of the afternoon show.

The principal feature was the work of the contortionist, but the other features did not come up to expectations. After the evening show, there was a concert in which fully over half the people remained.

The grounds surrounding the tented show were in miserable condition, and many who ventured to the place would sink deep in mud. The show left here about one o'clock this morning for St. Augustine, by special train.

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its narrowest point and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 28, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palm-trees, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine, the amorphous clematis and climbing roses, the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. The river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues lead from the river and intersect the river at all 100 feet wide, except Beach street which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, macled and shelled roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving of automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages
that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those seeking homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, nicely worked, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze, on Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach
lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered, the finest in the world, and the sunbathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.
The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bare for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. The idea these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at ebb-tide, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for sunbathing. Here the infant as well as the grey-haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year, while the strong and expert swimmer, can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula
lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature
at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying.

Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona. At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalle, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon, individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.

Hunting and fishing good. Experienced guides and dogs may be had at reasonable prices.

Italian Country Dance.
In Italy when the country men and women dance together the first thing they do is to toss off their shoes, if they wear any. A man does not go up to a girl and ask if she will dance, but he fixes his eye upon her from a distance and nods. She nods in return, and then both kick off their shoes, advance toward each other and begin to dance.

BIG PARTY IS COMING

Minneapolis Enthusiasts Will Take in the Races.—More Than One Hundred Coming.

A party of more than one hundred members of the Minneapolis Automobile Association, will leave the Minneapolis city on the morning of March 20th bound for the Ozark-Daytona Brazil races. The pleasure seekers will arrive in St. Augustine, on Sunday afternoon of the following day, and on the next morning leave for Daytona. Here the special train will be placed on a side track, and remain through the six days of the race meet. During this time the opportunity will be given for the visitors to take a side trip down the coast.

First Trip.

The sight-seeing party of the Whipple Motor Company, of Clayton, N. Y., arrived at the direction of E. W. Whipple, manager, made its first stop at Neversburg, on Sunday last. There were fourteen guests in the party, and the pleasant expressions on the returns indicated that all thoroughly enjoyed the outing. The conveyer left Altoona on Thursday at 10 a. m., and made the trip to the Ocean House, at Neversburg, in an hour and a half. The party was found to be in good condition with the exception of a small party who showed the ten and eleven mile-pole gave the heavy rains of late had hampered the roadway, and some little delay was experienced in passing. After a very pleasant day, Mr. Whipple showed

Died.

Marion Elliott, age 23 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Elliott, died Sunday morning, at the family residence, 1018 Schuette Avenue.

The young man has been in failing health for some time past, but the direct cause of his demise was an attack of tuberculosis. The family came to the hospital last November, from Orlando, where they spent a year or more in an attempt to benefit the patient. Prior to that time they spent a period in California but the changes in climate at that time did not prove in any way ben-

During the young man's stay in Dayton he made a number of warm acquaintances, who are pained to hear of his death.

He leaves a father and mother, sister and brother, who were here when he died.

The funeral service will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence. Interment in Pinecroft Cemetery, at Dayton. Burial service, Rasmaker, of the First Baptist church, will officiate.

Robert Holmes Loses Everything in His Boat, and Narrowly Escapes a Watery Grave.—Sold Crew.

A catamaran boat called The Seven Pines, with Robert Holmes in command, came ashore opposite Ponce Park, Sunday morning in a heavy squall. The boat was rapt, and the clothing and other stuff belonging to the owner was washed into the water. The boat was on edge from 91. Angerstein to Miami, and she was making an attempt to make the boat, but to no avail. The boat, when the small creek left with violent force.

Mr. Holmes has decided to give up the trip and has disposed of the boat to Bert Puccio, of Ponce Park, who will transform the craft into a launch.

Up to the time of making the boat, Mr. Holmes reports having a very pleasant time.

Obituary.

The funeral services of Morton Elliott, whose death was mentioned in our column yesterday, took place yesterday afternoon, at his request was held in St. Francis Cemetery. He had been a sufferer from tuberculosis for several years, and in his battle for life he had been severely in Arizona, Florida, Michigan, Colorado, North Carolina, the Adirondacks, and last winter in Water Park, Fla. From his first entrance into Florida, due to the fact that he was in the country, and often expressed his great love for Florida. As he left the last morning he spoke again and again of his children that he was here, and would be laid to rest here.

His mother and sister, who have been with him throughout his entire sickness, will remain in Daytona through the winter, and may eventually make Florida their permanent home. His father, C. G. Elliott, C. E., is at the head of the Department of Land Drainage, in the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., and his father takes him away from home all the time, he being out all over the country wherever there are difficult problems in connection with lands by drainage to be solved.

TWO THIEVES ARE CAUGHT.

Many Articles Belonging to Merchants Found in Midway.—Held Over in Default of $1,000 Bond.

George Davis and Will Thomas, two colored sneak thieves, were caught in Midway yesterday by Deputy Sheriff C. M. Korte, and the colored officers, Glad Taylor and William Simpson, who have been working on the case for some time. They were arrested before Justice Cox, and held in $1,000 bond to await the action of the Criminal Court.

These negroes have been operating in the vicinity for some time past, and it is probable that a large number of the retailers that have received can be traced to them.

In their room was found three pairs of shoes, two pairs of trousers, and three shirts, the property of Anthony Ben-Thomas, two pairs of shoes and two coats, the property of M. B. Antman. In addition there was a pistol, hat, rubber overcoat and a pair of gold spectacles, which could not be identified.

On several occasions these negroes have visited the two stores where were found at times when the places were unoccupied. One of the number would attract the attention of the clerk and the others get in their nefarious work.

While the officers were about to make the attack on the house one of the negroes escaped and is still at large. All three are also loaded with negroes.

After the preliminary hearing, a warrant was received from Judge, stating that Thomas is wanted there for jail breaking.

Davis, the other thief in the trials, claims Jacksonville as his home.
